PULLEY GOES FREE. MRS. SALLIE B. WARE.

Slayer of Jim Brown Acquitted By the Jury.

Other Important Cases On Docket to Come Up This Week.

The murder case of the commonwealth against William Pulley, charged with killing James D. Brown April 10, 1902, was tried last week and Pulley was acquitted by the jury after being out only forty minutes.

The plea was self-defense. There were no direct witnesses who had to make out its case by cross-questioning defense witnesses. Pulley proved by several witnesses that Brown had frequently threatened his life and he testified that Brown began the attack and shot him in the shoulder before he began shooting himself and the duel continued until Brown was killed. The evidence for the prosecution was very meager and the jury did about the only thing it could have done under the circumstances.

The indictment against Tom Bond for malicious striking was found to be defective and was dismissed. The case will be resubmitted to the next grand jury. Bond was recognized in the sum of $200 for his appearance.

John Rickman's administrator vs. the L. & N. Railroad Co., dismissed without prejudice. Rickman was a negro killed at the Bradshaw crossing last April.

Jim Will Anderson and Burrell Wiley, two of the men charged with the murder of R. H. Coffey, have given bonds of $1,500 and $1,000 respectively. They were released Saturday.

The cases against J. P. Miller and C. J. Miller, indicted for counterfeiting, will be tried to day. J. P. Miller has been brought back from Owensboro and C. J. Miller is under bond. They are the men caught passing raised bills during the street fair.

Grant Parrish, col., who killed Stephen Stewart, col., in a harvest field two years ago, will be put on trial to-morrow. Parrish fled and was captured about three weeks ago near Clarksville.

Court will adjourn this week.

LOST DEED

Basis of Suit for Land in Two States.

A deed supposed to have been destroyed at the death of its owner, 20 years ago, is the basis of a suit for 1,300 acres of land in Muhlenberg County, Ky., which will be filed this week at Owensboro by Mrs. Jane Graham, of East St. Louis. She is the widow of Philip Graham once a prominent capitalist of St. Louis.

BREVITIES OF FUN.

"Ma—my, she's a bit bitty and dimpled." "With all you worry 'bout it, she's a lot easier than the dog ever was."—"Otauta Constitution."

"Dah—What do you do when you are writing a letter and make a blot?" "Mad." "If it's to Charlie I draw a line around it and call it a kiss."—N.Y. Sun

"Sah—It is a pretty sentiment, though I guess I'll do as they take their hats off." "Hm—did you ever hear of the first husband of a widow who was not an ideal man?"—Boston Transcript

"It's an A1 display," said Mr. Pitt, at the dog show. "It's a first-class exhibition," replied Mr. Penn. "But you've got the wrong number." "How?" "Instead of A1 it's K9."—Dog Fancier's Gazette

"My friends," said the orator, as he stood before the attentive audience, "I am full of uncertainty!" Here a number of boarding-house people in the front rows looked at each other significantly, and hoarsely whispered: "He has been eating hash!"—Baltimore American.

"Have you anything to say in your behalf?" inquired the judge. "You'll have to excuse me, judge," replied the prisoner. "But the fact is that my wife is the talkin' member of the firm, and if you'll let me send for her—" "Three years at hard labor," said the judge, with considerable haste.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

REVENGEFUL MONKEY.

Tries to Kill Man Toward Whom He Has Taken Strong dislike.

"Monkey, I like their likes and dislikes, just like me," said a young man who lived up town to a New Orleans Times-Democrat writer, "and I know it is because of my recent experience at my boarding house. The lady who runs the house has a pet of this kind. He looks like me." "Meekling fell w—. He looks like me n—. I've come down from prehistoric times. I see him Jo, and some of the boarders have a great deal of fun out of the old fellow. But Jo, for some reason, has taken a violent dislike for me, and he does not fail to show it whenever I get in his presence. His face is a perfect picture of terror when I enter the house, and I have been inclined to tease him since observing that he did not like me. This, of course, has aggravated the situation. His dislike has developed into a sort of revengeful hatred, and he has shown a disposition to do me bodily harm. I believe he would slay me if he could, and my experience with him during the past few days has convinced me that I will have to keep an eye on Jo or get hurt. I did not pay much attention to his grimaces, his ferocious jangling of his things of that sort. I knew he did not like me from these antics, but I did not think his dislike was as violent as it is. A few days ago, when I entered that portion of the house where Jo is chained, he grabbed a heavy glass tumbler and threw it at me with fearful force. It missed me by an inch and broke into a hundred pieces against the wall. I made a few complimentary remarks, but Jo did not take kindly to my advances. It was several days later when I threw a newspaper at Jo in a joking way. It threw him into a fit of rage almost instantly, but he exercised a bit of cunning which I did not think was in him. He held on to the newspaper with one paw and he held it so tight that it would conceal his other arm and paw. I had no idea what Jo was doing until he hurled a big lump of coal at me. He missed me again, and I got out of his range as soon as possible. Since then I have had nothing to do with Jo, and in the future I will give him a wide berth. I do not care to be killed by a monkey, and I am satisfied that Jo would kill me if he could. He has murder in his heart, so far as I am concerned, and he has proved the fact by his conduct toward me during the last few weeks."

Flowers at Funerals.

"The clause 'please omit flowers' so often seen in funeral notices, doesn't mean such a less to us as you might suppose," says a florist. "It used to be that all the flowers received at a funeral were set to the cemetery and placed upon the grave to wither. A great many people object to this procedure as a sinful waste, and these are the people who advise us: 'Please omit flowers.' But the flowers are sold realy omitted. Some people don't see the announcement, or, if they do, they don't heed it. The flowers come, just the same. In such cases the blossoms are usually given away, after the funeral services, to some hospital or institution where they contribute to the happiness of the living."—Philadelphia Record.

WATCHING

For the husband's homecoming does not usually outlast the early months of marriage. And this not because of any lessening of affection, but because the wife finds the time for the ever-ready come before she is ready for it. She blames herself for her lack of energy, but the truth is that her vitality is being reduced by unhealthy drains, and the labor that seemed so light a few months ago now taxes all her strength.

Women who feel weak and tired out will find new strength in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"In April 1900 my strength gave out and I was obliged to go to bed, suffering from female weakness, also had ulcers and inflammation," writes Mrs. Ellen D. Kellie, of Plover, Wis., Co. Ind. "I tried a physician's remedy for a month but got no better—only weaker. Tried another medicine six weeks, but got no better. Then I was told by my husband to take a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I began taking it, and in two months I was able to do my housework again. I have never had any trouble since. I also took 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I regained my strength and weight twenty-five pounds more in three months than I did before."

Accept no substitute for Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

You have to pay a washerwoman cash for your washing, or if neighbors do it, you have to carry it to them, then call for it and pay for it before you get it. We claim to have one of the largest plants in the South and claim to do far superior work to either of above parties referred to. We call for your laundry and deliver it, and it is nothing unreasonable to expect to be paid for it when delivered, as we have forty lands dependent on us for weekly wages and cannot carry five hundred accounts on our books ranging from five cents ($5) to one dollar ($1.00).

If a merchant had a like set of books to contend with, he would either quit the business or get the cash.

For this reason nearly every town and city in the country has a cash laundry system, except Hixson.

Now why not help a home enterprise along by doing what they do everywhere else—par for your work when delivered.

You can save ten cents on every dollar by buying a coupon book. Two dollars of laundry costs you only one dollar and eighty cents, notwithstanding you get at list price cheaper laundry than at Nashville or Evansville.

Don't Wait Until Fall,
TO BEGIN TO BUILD.

It takes a month or more to get the plan question settled, and the best houses can not be built in a hurry. A house built in the winter is seldom satisfactory, and a fall beginning means a winter ending. Furthermore, prices on all materials are generally higher in the fall. Then too, most people wait till then to build, and work brings a higher price when there is a great deal of it. Hence you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by building in the Spring and Summer.
